

Social and Personal

SOCIETY in Richmond, and indeed all through Virginia, is deeply interested in the marriage of Miss Kathleen Cassel, daughter of Judge and Mrs. George Edward Cassel, and Arthur Vincent Adamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Adamson, of Richmond. It will be a very brilliant affair, and a great many very distinguished guests will be in Radford for the ceremony, which takes place this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Central Presbyterian Church. Arches of English ivy will decorate the church, and the chancel will be banked with palms, ferns and great bunches of white chrysanthemums. White flowers will be used on the altar and quantities of lighted tapers will be everywhere. Rev. Harry L. Whitmore will perform the ceremony in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends. Mrs. Lewis Tugles, of Roanoke, and Mrs. E. Lee Trinkle, of Wytheville, will play the wedding marches. Preceding the ceremony some exquisite old airs will be played while the guests are assembling.

The bride will enter the church with her father, who will also give her away. Her wedding gown, fashioned of ivory satin, is a very handsome affair, and is made with a court train. The bodice is trimmed in duchess lace and gauze de soie with an embroidery of seed pearls. Her long tulle veil will be arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she will carry a bouquet of 'Bride roses' and 'Miles of the valley.' Mrs. James Wilson Hall, of New York, a sister of the groom, will be dame of honor and will wear a gown of blue chrysanthemum and carry white chrysanthemums. Miss Lucile Campbell Cassel and Miss Ann Markham Cassel, sisters of the bride, will be maids of honor. Miss Lucile Cassel will wear a quilted little frock of pale pink satin veiled in chiffon.

and silver, and Miss Anne Cassel will wear a frock similar to that of her sister's, made in pale blue satin and also veiled in chiffon and silver. They both will wear Juliet caps of dewdrop illusion and rosebuds and carry great bouquets of La France roses. Thomas Adamson, of Richmond, will act as his brother's best man. Miss Mary Miles, of Marion, and Miss Bessie Elliott, of Christiansburg, will be bridesmaids. Miss Miles will wear pink chiffon, embroidered in gold, and will carry a bouquet of La France roses. Both of the bridesmaids will wear Juliet caps like those worn by the maids of honor. The ushers will include Stockton Heth, Henry Clement Tyler, Waller Randall Cassel, of East Radford, and Alexander Barclay Guion, of Richmond.

The bride's mother will wear a gown of apricot satin, draped in chiffon, and embroidered in gold. Mr. Adamson will wear a gown of black lace. Both Mr. Adamson and his bride belong to very distinguished families and their wedding is of much interest to society throughout the State.

Attractive Card Party.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Trevett for a reception to be given on the evening of Friday, November 6, from 7 to 10:30 o'clock, at their home at Glen Allen, to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. Mrs. Trevett formerly lived in Richmond, and was Miss Ada Gale Broadbent, of this city, before her marriage to Mr. Trevett. Mr. Trevett is also well known in Virginia, and is prominently identified with the Virginia Hot Springs Company, having been a director at one time, and also with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. The reception will be a very brilliant event in society in the State and many distinguished guests will be present.

Tablet to Be Unveiled.
Under the auspices of the Confederate Memorial and Literary Society, a tablet to mark the site of old Libby Prison will be unveiled, the ceremony taking place on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock. All arrangements for the afternoon are in charge of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. Mrs. James D. Worth is chairman of the sites committee.

Miss Wingfield a Debutante.
The bar of debutantes for the season is daily growing larger, and the first week in November will witness very interesting entertainments to be given in their honor. Miss Eleanor Wingfield, of 107 West Franklin Street, will be another young girl to make her debut to Richmond society this winter. Miss Wingfield is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Wingfield and is very popular with the younger set here.

Entertaining House Party.
Miss Mary R. Thornton, of "Court View," is entertaining informally this week a house party in honor of the Rev. James Grammer, D. D., of Winchester. Miss Thornton's guests for the week include Mrs. Mary Green, Mrs. C. R. French, Mrs. W. C. Scott, Miss Priscilla Grammer Scott and Miss Fannie B. Coles, of "River Side," Halifax county; Mrs. Flournoy Bouldin and others.

Handkerchief Shower.

Celebrate Anniversary.
Yesterday was the occasion of the fifty-first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brauer, of 2226 Monument Avenue. Many friends called during the evening to extend their congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Brauer.

A Very Pretty Marriage Ceremony.
A very pretty marriage ceremony was performed Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Banks, 218 South Jefferson Street, when their daughter, Carrie Hogue, became the bride of Daniel L. Biedler. Rev. J. J. Gravatt, rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, was the officiating minister. There were present only a few friends of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a traveling suit, and carried a bouquet of Bride roses. Mr. and Mrs. Biedler left the city on the early morning train via the Atlantic Coast Line to attend a reception by friends tendered them in Petersburg, then to Roanoke, where other pleasant incidents await them, and from there to journey on to Princeton, N. Va., where they will reside November 10.

The parents of the bride came to this country from London, England, in the early eighties, settling in Massachusetts, where they lived a few years and removed to this city, where they subsequently made their permanent home.

Mr. Biedler formerly lived in Luray, but has made his home in Richmond for the past several years.

Missionary Society to Meet.
The annual enlistment of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parlors of the church. All visitors and strangers will be welcomed.

Mr. Wiggins and the Children.
By way of return of the many kindnesses shown her by Richmond people, Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggins delayed her departure from the city for another twenty-four hours. Tuesday at 1 o'clock she went to the Woman's College and read a chapter of "Rebecca" to the girls at college there, and again yesterday morning at 9 o'clock she did the same for the 1,200 girls and boys of the High School. Mrs. Wiggins stayed in Richmond yesterday afternoon solely to please the children, and the reception accorded both her play and her very charming self most probably repaid her very fully.

Mrs. Wiggins has limited her spectators to between the ages of eight and eighty, and they have most certainly packed the Academy of Music to do her honor for the four performances given in Richmond.

After the third act of the play yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Wiggins was literally forced into a very delightful little speech by the enthusiasm of the applause. She said that all the children had heard of Mary's little lamb, and if Richmond was willing to be the lamb she was more than anxious to play the part of Mary. A truly very touching feature of the matinee was the fact that at least thirty children in the audience who knew "Rebecca" went into the author's box to speak to her with their funny little ideas about the propriety of the thing.

Mrs. Wiggins is one of the foremost women of letters in America to-day, aside from the fact that she is a most charming and agreeable person to meet, and Richmond has been greatly honored by her presence here. Some one has called her "the childless mother" and the motherless children in the world."

Alumnae Association to Be Entertained.
Mrs. S. H. Templeman, president of the Alumnae Association of the Woman's College, will entertain the senior class informally this afternoon at 5 o'clock in the college parlors.

A business meeting of the association will be held at 4 o'clock, preceding the reception. All members of the association are urged to be present at this meeting, as business of importance will be transacted.

Philanthropic Hall.
The Philanthropic Class of Seventh Street Christian Church gave a Halloween party at the residence of Misses Carrie and Edith Brown, 5 West Clay Street, on Tuesday evening from 5 to 11. Games and contests were indulged in until a late hour, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all.

The parlor and dining-room were beautifully decorated to carry out the old-fashioned Halloween Eve, and the merry party of girls and boys strolled to and fro engaging in games and contests. The girls, forever meeting the witch (Mrs. Thee), who gracefully and beautifully acted her part.

LIFE A BURDEN

That is What Lady in Craig Told Her Friend, Who Finally Helped Her to Obtain Relief.

Craig, Nebr.—Mrs. Annie Dye, of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles as only those who have such troubles can know.

I had backache and bearing down pains, and my body and limbs became so swollen that it was only with great difficulty I could get up on my feet.

Life had become almost a burden for me when a friend recommended Cardui, the woman's tonic.

I began to take Cardui, and within a short time there was a very great improvement.

I continued its use and the swelling left my limbs. Now I feel like a different person. I am fifty-four years old and feel as well as any one of my age.

Cardui has carried me through some very serious ailments without the aid of a doctor. I would not like to be without it in the house.

Cardui is the ideal tonic remedy for women. Its ingredients are especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves pain, helps weakness, nervousness, dragging sensations, headache, backache and similar symptoms of female trouble.

Being a vegetable remedy, Cardui has no ill effects. Cardui acts in a natural way, and is adapted for the use of both young and old.

Rescues a Sailor.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Wilmington, N. C., November 1.—But for the quick thinking and courage of Horace D. Springer, of Wilmington, a big sailor of the Standard Oil Company's barge, Standard, would have been drowned yesterday afternoon. The sailor jumped from the boat to make fast a line and slipped back when the barge was being pulled down into the Cape Fear River between dock and the barge. Mr. Springer happened to be standing near and jumped overboard after the sailor. He managed to get the semiconscious man on the wharf. It was a heroic task, because Mr. Springer is a man of light weight, while the sailor was very large.

MANY NOTED MEN PAY LAST TRIBUTE
From All Walks of Life, They Come to Attend Funeral of Mr. Pulitzer.

New York, November 1.—The funeral of Joseph Pulitzer, owner and publisher of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch, was held to-day in St. Thomas Episcopal Church, whose rector, the Rev. Ernest M. Stires, conducted the services. The burial was at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Tribute to the memory of the dead publisher was marked by the attendance of many noted men in all walks of life—editors and publishers, bankers and men of affairs—who mingled with employees of the World and personal friends of Mr. Pulitzer. Thousands of persons lined Fifth Avenue as the funeral cortege passed.

The body of Mr. Pulitzer, who died Sunday on board his yacht Liberty at Charleston, S. C., lay in state until the funeral hour at the family home at 140 West 12th Street, where hundreds of intimate friends and business associates called to pay their respects. Throughout the day numerous expressions of sympathy were received by members of Mr. Pulitzer's family.

Among those who sent messages of condolence were Clarence H. Mackay, Henry W. Hatterton, Whitlaw Reid, Charles Warren Fairbanks, Lord Northcliffe, Melville E. Stone, Edward L. Pretorius, editor of the Westliche Post, whose father, Emil Pretorius, gave Mr. Pulitzer his first employment as newspaper reporter, and numbers of men in official and business life in America and abroad.

St. Thomas Church was banked with floral tributes. One floral offering which stood out in the huge bank at the chancel rail was a wreath in the form of a life preserver, sent from the captain and crew of Mr. Pulitzer's yacht, on which he spent much of the latter part of his life.

At the church the larger portion of the pews were reserved for members of the family, personal friends and employees of the World. Another portion was reserved for members of the Publishers' Association of New York, who attended in a body. Honorary pallbearers were Nicholas Murray Butler, Louis L. Clark, Colonel George Harvey, General John H. Trenchard, Frederick N. Judson, Seth Low, St. Clair McKelway, Dr. James W. McKeen, George L. Rives and J. Angus Shaw.

For five minutes at the funeral hour all activity in the offices of the New York World and St. Louis Post-Dispatch was stilled.

FAIR GREAT SUCCESS.
Fluvanna County Closes Its Annual Exposition—Great Crowds Attend.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Palmyra, Va., November 1.—Its last feature a grand riding tournament, with subsequent crown and queen of beauty, the Fluvanna County Fair closed this evening. The fair opened Tuesday morning, and on both days the crowds were the largest in the history of the association. The exhibits were varied and of an unusually high grade, those in the tobacco department being equal to the display at the Richmond State Fair. The exhibition of agricultural implements, corn and live stock, the best ever shown by the Fluvanna County Club made a splendid demonstration of the work it has accomplished.

Pretty Home Wedding.
At noon to-day at the residence of the bride's mother, on Harrison Street, Bessie Mae, daughter of Mrs. Jennie A. Schenck, was married to Howard Willetts Mitchell, of Vineland, N. J. The wedding was a very pretty, though quiet, home event. Mrs. W. King Davis, of Marmora, was matron of honor. Many friends were present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George E. Hooker, D. D., of Washington Street Methodist Episcopal Church. After the bridal trip Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will be at home in Vineland, N. J.

Winding Up Conference Year.
The Methodist churches are winding up the affairs of the conference year preparatory to the meeting of the Virginia Conference on the 15th in Salisbury, Md. The churches throughout the Petersburg District will have a good report to make. There are only three necessary work changes in the district this made necessary by the expiration of the four-year pastoral term. One of these is the Rev. J. T. Bosman, of Market Street Church, in this city, and the others are on the Brunswick and Mecklenburg circuits. There may be others, however.

An Expensive Job.
Bud Perry (negro), who is alleged to have stolen a pistol from Henry Keys (colored), in Dinwiddie, was fined $50 in the Police Court this morning for the satisfaction he enjoyed in carrying the weapon about Petersburg. And when he gets out of jail he will be tried for burglary in Dinwiddie, where he is likely to get a term in the penitentiary. Bud denies that he committed burglary, and says he won the pistol at a crap game.

Huntmen Out.
Scores of Petersburg huntmen, with dogs and guns, went out to the woods and fields in this vicinity this morning after game. Some were successful and some were not, but all enjoyed the first day's sport of the season.

Personal and Otherwise.
Mr. and Mrs. Archibald M. McRae are spending a few days at their Petersburg home on Friend Street.
